Newsletter of the
Calhoun County Genealogical Society
Founded 1988

Volume 6, Number 2

November, 1993

WHAT: Calhoun County Genealogical Society Meeting

WHEN: Tuesday, 7:00 p.m., 25 January and 22 February, 1994

WHERE: Marshall's VFW Hall, Marshall, MI

Our own Jo Peck Will speak at the 25 January meeting on The Stories in My Notebooks. She will tell us some of the fascinating stories she found and which are illustrated in her fifty or more family notebooks. A descendant of generations of pack rats, Jo will share with us some of the material it is possible to acquire through this tendency. She writes a weekly genealogy column for the Marshall Chronicle, teaches adult education classes in genealogy at KCC and the Valentine center, and is Vice President of CCGS.

Tom and Ann Scovel, owners of the new Heritage Unlimited Bookshop in Grand Rapids, will speak at our 22 February meeting. Ann Scovel will tell us about their bookshop and what books, maps, magazines, forms, services, etc., are available for us as genealogists right there. Her husband Tom will discuss genealogical computing and tell us what he has available to us in that line. Their store is a dream to browse in and is easy to find. Come and hear them speak, get the directions to the store, and go. Or, maybe plan to do some of your special Christmas Shopping right there even before you hear them speak. The address is 4068 Chicago Drive, Grandville, Michigan, 49418, phone (616) 530-3359.

Mark your calendar now so you don't forget these meetings. We'll see you there! And in the meantime, have a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year from your Calhoun County Genealogical Society!

1993 CEMETERY PROJECT REPORT, Ruth Kaiser, chair

Sixteen different days have been scheduled for cemetery readings, both in Clarendon and Clarence townships. Four times your project chair was the only participant. This fall we have concentrated on the small cemeteries in Clarence Township. My thanks to the dedicated 8 who have volunteered a total of 90 hours to date (Oct. 22). These include: Mary Lou Crandall, Pat Geyer, Amanda Kail (Pat Geyer's granddaughter), Julia Miller, Val Radee, Ramona Short, Lois Snow, Ken Stone. This doesn't include uncountable computer input hours.

It appears that more participants are available during the week than on Saturdays. The Saturday monthly dates at Cooks Prairie didn't produce much results, which means this material won't be available until 1994. The Bentley Corners Cemetery will be available at the November CCGS meeting.

A combined transcription of Hunt (North Clarendon), Krenerick, Nichols and Dyer will also be available at the November meeting. Original Clarence Township transcriber, Ken Stone, and volunteer, Ramona Short, are currently checking these records and the readings with my computer printout.

Next year we will schedule a weekly reading during the week; tentatively on Wednesdays, concentrating on Cooks Prairie and Clarence Center. Anyone who plans to attend will be asked to check with the project chair for location and any weather complications.

In the meantime the Clarence Center original data cards, prepared by Ken Stone, and arranged alphabetically, are available through CCGS at the Albion Public Library History Room. In addition, I will provide the Willard and Albion History Rooms with a first draft alphabetical copy of all the material in process to date. This will include Clarence Center (Clarence Township in the northeast corner of the county) and Cooks Prairie and West Clarendon in Clarendon Township (a southeast section of the county).

I have also received word from Meda Francisco that she would be glad to give information regarding burials in Newton Township's only cemetery. She can be contacted by calling 616/979-2791 or at her address, 10343 F Drive South, Ceresco, MI 49033. She is a member of the cemetery committee and has cards on all burials and their location.

Booklets are available at Calhoun Co. Genealogical Society Meetings or by writing to CCGS, c/o Albion Public Library, 501 South Superior, Albion MI 49224:

PRESIDENTS ANNUAL REPORT 1992-93
MARLENE STEELE

Activities were planned for the months of September 1992 through June 1993, with the exception of December. A very cooperative Executive Board and Program chairman plus several helpful volunteers were able to present various programs for the general membership. We need to keep in mind that it takes a great deal of effort to keep the quality of offerings running smoothly.

I will report on several programs that I had direct involvement with concerning presentation or preparation.

September 1992- Civil War Researching Seminar.

Prepared for the packets of materials a bibliography of published materials of Willard Library's MI room holdings. Prepared list and overview of several libraries, archives and research center and their collections which included addresses of various institution.

Winter 1993- Volunteers and board members helped conduct experimental session of mini-workshops.

March 1993- Presented a program at Willard Library, which dealt with the issue of Land Records, how to search, locate and understand the information provided.

I have a tendency to try and nag people for help who are members, but have failed to participate for one reason or another. We need help from members of CCGS.

Queries sent to CCGS have been answered by mail, by Hazel Miller, Sister Georgia Brown, and Ramona Short to name a few, as well as by me. Other Board members have also helped. At Willard over 25 requests have been addressed. Most from out of state.

Shining efforts include, Cemetery projects, the Newsletter, program chair, the treasurer, organization of the archives and membership.

I thank everyone for their HELP!

Genealogy Not An Academic Subject?

The President of Elderhostel is reported to be considering eliminating genealogy as a topic from its schedule of classes by next year. The staff in Boston, obviously not genealogists, believes that genealogy is not an academic subject and that it does not fall within the realm of the liberal arts.

If Elderhostel eliminates genealogy as a course of study, that decision will impact many thousands of individuals who need and want the skills necessary to do their research. For the past decade, the week-long Elderhostel classes have been a cost effective means for Senior Citizens to learn how to research their ancestral history. A decision to eliminate genealogy classes also will be a slap in the face of all genealogists who endeavor to research their family history in an academic manner, with high standards of historical research.

Is genealogy not an academic subject? Is genealogy, a branch of history, not a liberal arts study? If you would like to express your opinion to Elderhostel's President, contact William D. Berkley, Elderhostel, 75 Federal St., Boston, MA 02110-1941.
